EXHIBIT B

Plaintiff hereby submits Exhibit "B", an email sent to the plaintiff by Defendant, Kathy Bickel, in which she labels Plaintiff's requests for informal discovery as, "paranoia," and, then, disparages him for being the victim of fraud and other violations of his civil rights, to which she is a perpetrator.

Jimmy,

I don't know if all that is transcribed is correct. I do however remember a conversation to the effect that you wanted my phone records. I will not give them to you. I love you very much but I won't do this. With your addiction to methamphetamine comes paranoia. I have come to know that the only stance I can take is to remove myself from the situation you're involved in. That doesn't mean I love you any less...I think of you daily and pray for you. There isn't anything you could possibly do to cause me to stop loving you. I don't like the way you are now. You used to be the most intelligent, witty, charming and kind person in the world...but since meth has become the main focus of your life it has completely transformed your way of thinking to suspicion, mistrust, anger and lying. I love you more than you can know. I mourn the loving son I used to know.

Love,

Mom
